BIG RALLY AT PRICEBURG

Much Enthusiasm by Voters of Priceburg for the Republican Ticket

MANY EXCELLENT ADDRESSES

Attorney R. A. Zimmerman was Eloque Democratic Arguments met and Answered-Records of the Candates-Honest Men.

The Republican rally at Priceburg last night decided which party that im-portant and populous district would support at the November election.

The meeting was held in the Cantral hotel hall, when the leading residents attended and filled the spacious room. Thomas Peach presided, and in speaking of the county ticket dwelt upon the remarkable strength of the candidates, and said it would be impossible to suggest or appoint a better or more powerful ticket in the interests of the com-munity at large than had been done by the Republican convention. The ticket would be elected, provided Republicans do their duty this year as well as they had done on other occasions in fighting for the old party which protected the interests of working men, their homes and their comfart.

Attorney R. A. Zimmerman, in an ex-haustive review, referred to the arguments of the Democratic party in favor of their free trade policy which he conclusively proved was detrimental to the nterests of the employer and employed. It would injure the workmen in all the branches of trade, it would injure him in wages, and in the necessaries and ordinary comforts of life. He exposed in scathing terms the absurd and fallaclous argument of raw materials and claimed that the only raw materials were the forest and the earth, and labor in developing those raw materials should be protected at every step and protected by a tariff, which was the great principle of the Republican party. Local Candidates Considered.

Mr. Zimmerman then dealt with the county ticket and in sarcastic language referred to the paltry attacks by the Judge Archbald, the speaker said, didate for sheriff, was an honest man, a thing desired above all in that office. Thomas D. Davies was the represen-tative of the Welsh element who were entitled to recognition, and his experience in the important position he that beautiful emblem of national and Western company would qualify him for the important post of county

John H. Thomas, clerk of the courts, is a faithful, honest and painstaking officer, and his urbanity and courtesy, as well as his high efficiency, would ensure his re-election. John R. Jones, the next district attorney, they were well acquainted with, and his career at the courts was one of which they were sincerely proud. Clarence E. Pryor, Charles Huester, candidate for recorder of deeds, and the other candi-date for jury commissioner, were also yer who concluded an interesting address amid the loud and continued applause of his delighted audience.

Attorney Olver's Address. Attorney Charles E, Olver made an excellent address and dwelt upon the particular qualities required for fulfilling the various county offices and was applauded as he proved how each candidate on the Republican ticket would be competent to discharge the functions of the various offices.

Captain Moir, in supporting the ticket and speaking of John R. Jones said that Mr. Jones was a modest man and could not blow his own horn but got twenty of Bauer's men to do it for him and they all knew how that worked. There was a great demand for whisky in Democratic counties and in order to have the article cheap and plenty of it that party went in for free trade. In humorous language the speaker kept the audience in a state of mrriment.

Among the candidates present were Frank Clemons, Thomas D. Davis, John Rt. Jones, John H. Thomas, who were cordially received and every indication was shown that the majority for the Republican party at Priceburg in the coming contest will be the largest ever given to any party.

Mr. Hellings was pastor of the Penn Avenue Baptist church for a term of eight years. and the brilliant services rendered by him, as witnessed by the great progress of the church during his pastorate, endeared him to an extensive circle of friends who will be more than pleased to meet their old pastor once more.

On Tuesday another divine, who has attracted considerable attntion in the theological world, will address the cen-tenary meetings. His name—Rev, E. Judson, D. D., of the Memorial church, Fifth avenue, New York—is almost a familiar one in the schools of theology. Wednesday the Rev. G. E. Lorimer, of Boston, will deliver his celebrated address, "Baptists in History," which was given before the World's parliment of religion at the Chicago exposition. Mr. Lorimer has had a varied experience in London, England, Chicago and other cities and is now pastor of the largest congregation in Boston.

Another feature of the anniversary services, which also be borne in mind, will be the completion of the thirty-fifth anniversary of the opening of the Penn Avenue Baptist church.

ment and the civil service commission. The object in issuing the new regula tions were to practically deprive post-masters of the appointing power over their subordinates. Officially the order is defined to be "For the purpose of avoiding unjust removals of clerks and carrers in the classified service, and to avoid embarrassment and annovance between the department and postmasters." The new order is also to obviate the delay, annoyance and misunderstanding that have been caused in the past by postmasters conducting examinations which properly should be conducted by the department.

FLAG FOR NO. 12 SCHOOL.

t Was Presented and Thrown to the Breeze With Appropriate Exercises-Those Who Participated in Them.

From the flag staff of the new No. chool on Emmett sreet in the Eighteenth ward floats the national emblem, presented to the principal, Professor M. D. McCawley, yesterday by M. J. O'Toole, president of St. Peter's Father Mathew society, of Bellevue, The school was decorated gaily with flags and bunting, and pupils and teachers were dressed in holiday attire.
At 2 o'cloch St. Peter's society formed at its hall on Fourth street and marched to the school. On a platform to the left of the main entrance seats were ar-ranged to accommodate the members of the society and others who had been invited. Ex-Judge P. P. Smith, Controller T. J. Jennings, Professor George Howell, of the high school, and Control-ler Thomas Coar, of the Eighteenth ward, occupied the platform with the society. The pupils marched from the rooms and took a position to the right of the entrance. Emmett street was well lined with the men and women of the ward as well as many former pupils of the school.

The Flag Presented.

The pupils sang the tuneful anthem, "America's Flag." Principal McCaw-ley then introduced M. J. O'Toole, who, Democrats upon Congressman Scran as president of St. Peter's Father ton, the only point which was worthy of attention being the charge of absention from congress. TOBAN STOLE THE SHOES

So Judge Edwards Said Yet the Accussed Was Found Not Guilty.

Woman Not a Chattel, Says Judge Lynch Her Husband Has No Right to Keep Her in House Against Her Will.

John Toban, of the South Side, who was tried yesterday before Judge Ed-wards for the theft of shoes from N. G. Goodman's store, on Lackawanna avenue, on July 3 last, walked out from the court room a free and very happy man. Toban was arrrested on July 3 in a saloon in Centre street, where he was trying to sell a varied assortment of shoes , for which he wanted $2. The shoes were identified as a portion of the stock of Mr. Goodman, but when the case was solo, "father of Love"... tried vesterday the commonwealth was unable to prove that they had been stolen.

As that was the first essential neces-sity to make out a case against Toban, Attorney Joseph O'Brien, who repre-sented the prisoner, asked Judge Edwards to direct the jury to return a ver-dict of not guilty. The merits of the point were argued at length by Mr. O'Brien and District Attorney Kelly. the latter contending that there was sufficient evidence that the shoes had been stolen by Toban to allow the case to go to the jury. Judge Edwards, how-ever, decided that the commonwealth had not made out a case and directed a verdict of not guilty.

Judge Edwards to stand up before the look very grave again.

Escaped a Technicality.

"Mr. Toban, you have escaped by a technicality," sternly said Judge Edwards. "There is no doubt in my mind that you stole those shoes, but you will not be punished for it. Let this be a lesson and a warning to you. Go home and bereafter he an honest man home and hereafter be an honest man and a good citizen."

Toban had been in jall since his arrest on July 3, and as soon as Judge Ed-wards finished his lecture the acquitted man rushed over to the pris-oner's box, got his hat and tore out through the court room with a clat-ter that awoke all the tipstaffs and caused their staffs to beat a tattoo on

The case of Mrs. Catharine Collins, of Mayfield, charged with assault and bat-tery by Mrs. Margaret Meehan, was given to the jury yesterday morning. A verdict of not guilty was returned, and Mrs. Meehan directed to pay the Charles Fields, a young colored man, was tried and convicted before Judge Edwards of having stolen a revolver from Carpenter's hotel at Franklin ave-nue and Spruce street. He afterward tried to sell it in Rutledge's hotel on Lackawanna avenue, where he was arrested for the theft. Flelds denied having had the revolver in his possesthe Free," and ex-Judge Smith was introduced. He contrasted the methods of education of today with the methods of forty years ago, and said that the difference was marvelous. Patriotism, he declared, is, has been and ever will the prisoner's arrest the revolver was found stowed away in a closet in that found stowed away in a closet in that hotel. The jury convicted Fields and he was sentenced to pay a fine of $10, costs and spend six months in the county jail.

Not Guilty; Diivided Costs. Mrs. Annie Walters was arraigned. charged with assault and battery on Mrs. Mary Donovan. The women reside on Robinson street, West Side, and their were the Mrs. Donovan said that Mrs. Walters struck her in the eye and broke her glasses, and hit her in the side of the head with a stone. Mrs. Walters de-clared that Mrs. Donovan was the cause of all the trouble and injured her se-verely in the row that took place. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty and divided the costs.

A verdict was taken in the case of Nelson Churchill, the cabman, who was Flag Forever," and a local history of Nelson Churchill, the cabman, who was the schools by James Brogan ended the indicted for defrauding Mrs. Fauny May of a $14 board bill. Mr. Churchill has since paid the bill, and a verdict of not guilty was therefore taken and the costs placed on the defendant.

John Mulderig, of Minooka, was tried for assaulting his neighbor, Mrs. Bridget McManus, with a bed post. The trouble arose over a line fence. Mulderig claims that he was badly injured by Mr. McManus, and his wife by Mrs. Mc Manus. They had to have their wounds dressed by a physician. At 5 o'clock the case was given to the jury.

Not Guilty, But Pay Cost. Before Judge Lynch in court room No., Patrick Coyle was tried for assault and battery, his wife, Kate Coyle, being the prosecutor. They reside at Mayfield, are about 25 years of age, and have been married two years.

Mrs. Coyle said that when her husband arrived home one evening and when she chided him for not coming to dinner, he thereupon soratched her neck, bruised her shoulder and almost denuded her person of clothes. Coyle's version of the affair was that when he returned home for supper he found his wife in a passion. She struck him in the mouth with a cup, cutting it. Then she began to scream, and was about to rush

Not wishing to let the neighbors know of their domestic trouble, he grabbed her and prevented her from leaving the house. During her struggles her clothes were torn and her neck somewhat in-

Judge Lynch charged the jurors that if they believed the testimony of the prosecutrix they should convict, and that they might convict on the testimony of the husband.

"The wife is not a chattel, but a com-panion," Judge Lynch said, "and Mr. Coyle had no right to restrain his wife in the house if she wished to leave. His action in holding her constituted an assault." The jury returned a verdict of not guilty and directed the defendant to pay the costs.

Wynu Will Pay the Costs. Samuel Thorne was called to answer of cruelty to animals pre ferred by John Wynn. In opening the Assistnant District Attorney said they would show that O'Nell Thorne was employed by Wynn as a teamster. He returned one day with an eye of one of the horses missing and while no one saw the optic removed it was the general opinion that Thorne did the trick. Judge Lynch said that if the commonwealth could produce no better evidence than that it was useless to waste the time of the court. He directed a verdict of not guilty and sent the jury out to pass upon the question of costs. They placed them on the prosecutor. Louis Schoen and his mother, Mrs. Annie Schoen, both of the West Side, were tried before Judge Lynch on charges of forcible entry and detainer, preferred by Peter Georges, Last March Schoen bought a property at sheriff's sale, which Georges occupied. sheriff's sale, which Georges occupied. He did not vacate as requested, and on Aug. 23 Schoen put Georges' goods out on the sidewalk, while Mrs. Schoen held the gate closed and prevented Georges from entering the premises. > The bird is a remarkably handsome specimen of the blue heron or blue crane species, and is known as a rare straggling visitant in the woods of Pennsylvania. Its feathers are beautiful and valuable because of their rarity. This was a young bird and answered the following measurements: It is 5 feet high, 42 inches long, has a body as large as the trunk of a sheep, and stands on skeleton legs, no thicker than a carriage whip and about 2 feet long. The length of the bill is 6 inches, of the foot including the toes, 8 inches, and the wing when spread out is 20 inches from the body to the tip.

The book, "Birds of Pennsylvania," states that at a date not far off the blue heron will be an extinct species. Its abode is along streams in mountainous places, and it lives exclusively on fishes. Its long legs enable it to wade into shallow streams and its sharply pointed bill used as a spear is sure death to the piscatorial tribe that comes within reach. It is exceedingly vicious and wary, and a case is on record where a Florida hunter was killed by one that had wounded. When he attempted to catch it the bird sunk its bill through his eye, and penetrated to the optic nerve of the brain.

It lays an egg much larger than the ovary of a goose. Bird fanciers pay as high a price for one of them as would buy a town lot.

GOLDEN CHANCES TO BUY. Concessions That Collins and Hackett Make to the Public.

Whatever else the fall and winter of 1894 may have in store for you it certainly offers the golden opportunity to buy the very best clothing cheap. We enter the season with a line of attractions that will command the respect and admiration of all on account of their elegance, style and quality, and offer them at prices lower than you have ever before enjoyed for goods of equal merit and worth. Business depression has made dollars assume the size of cart wheels in the eyes of jobbers and manufacturers and they have been willing to make any concessions in reason to exchange their merchandise for

The careful and experienced buyer has been able to make much of these unusual conditions and the result is that we now have on hand a stock of fresh seasonable goods that is a perfect marvel in values for the money it has

We, like the jobbers, however, find it wisdom to offer extra concessions to secure trade, and they will be made on so broad and generous a scale as to compel trade to seek us out. We are offering such inducements that the public annot and will not pass them by unheeded. MONDAY'S GRAND CONCERT. Rare Musical Treat That Is Prepared for Scrantonians.

The concert arranged for the benefit Luke's kindergarten at the Frothingham Monday night will be one of the leading events of the season.

Madame Blauvelt, whose name requires no introduction or comment, will render three selections, "Nymphs and Fans," by Bemberg, "Comais tu le Pays," by Mignon, and "Oh, Mighty Peus" (Creation). Miss Draeger will sing the following contralto selections: Schubert's "Aufenthalt" and "Du Bist Mein Herz." Mr. Wooler and J. T. Watkins will contribute excellent solos. Professor George Carter will give two recitals during the evening and will add considerably to the attractions of the evening.

The selections throughout are of the highest musical order, and the effort to provide a first-class programme of artistic music is to be highly commended.

> In the opinion of a clever writer in the Evening Post it is surprising that more women of intelligence and ability do not open boarding-houses when they are compelled to earn their own living. When rightly managed, it is a money-making occupation, and one that calls for no greater outlay of strength than many professions that are overcrowded and not profitable as pecuniary ventures. Never were there so many ple who are willing to pay, and pay handsomely, for a place that truly pro-vides the comforts of a home, and that offers pleasant, well-kept rooms with good beds, plumbing that can be relied on, nutritious food, good service, and above all, a house that is free from the odors and the shabblness or the cheap brightness and newness and lack of re-finement that can only be summed up in the word "boarding-housey." As it is, boarding- houses are, as a usual thing, kept either by the incompetent or by the over-shrewd, who have no desire to make a fair return for the money paid them. The woman who keeps a desirable, perfectly managed boarding house can usually dictate her own terms as to prices, and choose from a walting list those that she wishes to admit to her family. Her office will be no sine-cure, but if she has the necessary qualifications, success is assured.

Mr. Watres has all the qualifications for such an important trust. He is a Pennsylvanian, born in the same county where he now lives, educated in Pennsylvania institutions, admitted to the bar in Lacka-wana county and practiced there ever since, and has spent his whole social and political life distinctively in Penn-ylvania.

"He has had experience as a statesman. For eight years he represented a Democratic district in the sensented a Democratic district in the sen-ate, and for four years he has been lleutenant governor. During all this term of service no one can point to an instance where he was not found on the right side. Not only has his polit-ical life been unimpeachable, but 1 private life is free from reproach. is a clean, honorable and able man.

Scranton's Business Interests.

THE TRIBUNE will soon publish a c refully compiled and classified list of the leading wholesale, banking, manufacturing and professional interests of Scranton and vicinity. The edition will be bound in book form, beautifully illustrated with photogravure views of our public buildings, business blocks, streets, etc., together with portraits of leading citizens. No similar work has ever given an equal representation of Scranton's many industries, it will be an invaluable exposition of our business resources. Sent to persons outside the city, copies of this handsome work will attract new comers and be an unequaled advertisement of the city. The circulation is on a plan that cannot fail of good results to those concerned as well as the city at large. Representatives of THE TRIBUNE will call upon THOSE WHOSE NAMES are DESIRED in this edition and explain its nature more fully.

Those desiring views of their residences in this edition will please leave notice at the office. Scranton's Business Interests.

Arrington, Nelson Co., Va.
Dr. R. V. PIERCE; Sir—Allow me to offer my thanks to you for my good health since using your "Golden Medical Discovery." I was but the shadow of a person, so thin and haggard, without one moment's ease; had suffered for years with my stomach and liver, and this spring had a very severe attack of La Grippe. I then commenced using the "Discovery" and my recovery is wonderful. I am forty-five years old, and feel as well and strong as I did when sixteen years old; my sleep is as sound as an infant's. I remain,
